

Inland Steel To Mine In Wisconsin

Inland Steel Co., today announced that Jackson County Iron Co., its Wisconsin iron mining subsidiary, was seeking bids on the major plant facilities estimated to cost more than $20 million for a taconite ore mine and pelletizing plant at Black River Falls, Wis.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin on June 30, signed into law Senate Bill 84 granting a depletion tax allowance for low grade iron ore mining in Wisconsin. The bill reduces the state tax assessment from approximately 37 cents to 25 cents per ton of pellets.

The tax relief had been sought by Inland.

Carl B. Jacobs, raw materials vice president for Inland and president of Jackson County Iron Co., testified during a hearing on the bill in Black River Falls March 11 that the relief was necessary to make the cost of mining and beneficiating Wisconsin lean ore more competitive with costs in Michigan and Minnesota.

Jacobs appeared before the Labor, Taxation, Insurance, and Banking Committee of the Wisconsin Senate.

"We are most pleased that this tax relief has been granted," Jacobs said. "We can now proceed with our plans for development of our Jackson County reserves."

Malsack, Braund Named Directors Of State Chamber

Robert W. Braund, Ishpeming, manager of mines of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., and James T. Malsack, Iron Mountain, executive vice president of Lake Shore Inc., have been elected directors of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce for a two-year term. Malsack succeeds Ralph Huhtala of Lake Shore who has completed a six-year term on the board. The men will attend their first board meeting on July 19, at St. Clair, Mich.

Preliminary engineering has been completed for the mine and a concentrating and pelletizing plant producing 750,000 tons a year of ore pellets, Jacobs said.

"If bids on final design and construction are in line with our estimates, site preparation will begin this fall," he said. "Construction would begin next spring and we would expect to ship our first pellets in the fall of 1969."

The plant would employ more than 200 with a total annual payroll of nearly $2 million, Jacobs said. Many of these would be recruited locally.

The Jackson County Iron Co. would supply approximately 10 per cent of Inland's annual iron ore needs, Jacobs said. At 750,000 tons a year, the Jackson County ore deposits would yield 15 million tons of pellets over a period of 20 years.

The plant would concentrate into 65 per cent iron pellets lean ore averaging 35 per cent iron as it comes from the ground. The iron content of the raw ore is about average for the "low grade" taconite ores which are rapidly becoming the major raw material for the ironmaking blast furnaces of the steel industry in the Great Lakes area.

The pellets would be shipped by rail on a year-round schedule to Inland's Indiana Harbor Works in East Chicago, Ind., to be smelted into pig iron in blast furnaces and refined into steel in basic oxygen and open hearth furnaces. The steel mill is the third largest in the nation, employing 21,500 and producing last year 6.9 million tons of raw steel.

Scout Camp To Be Very First In Own Forest

Boys and adults leaders of the Hiawathaland Boy Scout Council are looking forward to July 9, when the 1967 Scout camping season begins. This season is especially anticipated because of the new camp facility which will be in use for the first time.

Hiawathaland Scouts formerly used Camp Red Buck, a 10-acre tract of land in Alger County which was leased from the U.S. Forest Service. The facilities at Red Buck were of a makeshift sort and were never adequate for the needs of Upper Peninsula scouts. Governmental health agents finally denied the Scouts a camp operating license.

U.P. Scouting advisors decided that it would be poor business to invest in improvements on a piece of leased land which was too small to handle the needs of the Council. The Hiawathaland Council has been one of the few out of the more than 500 Scout Councils in the nation which has never owned its own outdoor facility. With suitable land becoming more scarce and prices rising, it was to acquire a camp site now.

The site selected for purchase is in almost the exact center of the Upper Peninsula. Its 345 wilderness acres include a 65 acre private lake. Arrangements with the property owner have provided the Council with early possession and improvement rights. Purchase and improvement are awaiting successful outcome of the $250,000 capital funds campaign now in progress.

Tight Budget Faces Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit started a new fiscal year Saturday on a tight budget that provides for 700 fewer public employees than last year.

The Welfare Department was hardest hit, with 324 jobs lost because of the merger with the Wayne County Welfare Department.

But Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has ordered all other departments not to fill vacancies when they appear.

The present $417.2 million budget for the fiscal year says Cavanagh, "is the most difficult" in his five years as mayor.

The new spending program seems higher than the current $406 million budget because it includes 15 million borrowed to cover a debt Wayne County owes Detroit.

Cavanagh said he was forced to get thrifty for several reasons, including:

—An estimated deficit of $12 million in the present budget because of a miscalculation a year ago.

—The possibility of a slump in the economy, which might reduce revenue from city income taxes.

—Signs that Congress may hold back federal money for a long list of projects.

—No chance of raising the city's property tax to improve the city's financial condition.

ORE SHIPMENTS at the Chicago & North Western Railway's big dock are still trailing behind last year by 157,488 tons as of July 1, reports Lee McMillan, dock agent. But he anticipates the gap will be overcome before the end of the season.

June ore shipment this year was 797,966 tons, loaded out in 53 boats, compared to 818,665 tons in 58 boats for the same month a year ago.

For the season the total to July 1 this year was 2,221,103 tons compared to 2,378,591 tons for the same period last year—down by 157,488 tons. Ore traffic fell off at Escanaba, the last couple of weeks but is expected to pick up after the Fourth of July, McMillan said.

The Detroit Edison loaded out with ore this afternoon and the George M. Humphrey came in for a cargo; the Benson Ford will be in tonight; the International is due on the 4th, followed by the L. E. and Joe Block on the 5th. The P. D. Block is scheduled for the 6th and the Joe Block will return on the 7th.

THE GREAT LAKES is considered "the fourth season" for the United States. They were opened to ocean-going vessels in 1959 through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The benefit has been a two-edged sword: It has helped some industries but it has been a bane to the U.S. Great Lakes fleet. The region exports more than any other section of the U.S. — but the share of the cargo carried in U. S. vessels has steadily declined.

The number of the Great Lakes vessels owned by the U.S. has fallen off rapidly. Forty-five per cent of the fleet was constructed before 1915; only 25 new vessels have been added since 1950.

Half Million Paid Here On Medicare

Michigan Blue Cross said that in the first year, $89.2 million in Medicare funds were paid to hospitals in Michigan for inpatient care for Medicare beneficiaries.

More than 725,000 Michigan residents are enrolled in Part A of the federal program to help the elderly meet hospital bills.

William S. McNary, Blue Cross president, Detroit, said that Medicare payments have been increasing in the last few months, even while the program's efficiency is improving.

"A great reduction in errors on Medicare forms handled by hospitals, and several improved procedures—both the government's and our own—have helped to smooth out service."

"On June 29, for example," he said, "we began paying hospitals four times each month, instead of twice. This, in combination with two methods of providing the hospitals with funds on an advance or accelerated system has helped hospitals."

Still Problems

"We still have some problems," McNary explained, "mostly with a very small percentage of cases that got mixed up and are taking time to straighten out. This complicated program is, however, working better and better each month."

In the first 12 months of Medicare, McNary said Michigan Blue Cross handled about 160,000 inpatient cases and about 125,000 outpatient bills. This did not include home health care cases or nursing home care.

The following payments to Upper Peninsula hospitals were made in the period July 1, 1966-June 30, 1967 by Michigan Blue Cross, acting as fiscal intermediary for Medicare Part A. The figures show payments to hospitals for inpatient cases only. Payments for outpatient care, health care, nursing home care and to physicians under Medicare Part B are not included.

negotiations in Romney's office.

Bipartisan support

Romney canceled a speech in New Jersey, an appearance at the National Young Republicans' convention in Iowa and a visit to the Republican Governors' conference in Wyoming because of the critical state fiscal situation.

An early - morning huddle of legislative leaders Saturday erased the difference remaining between the House and Senate, and moulded the tax package into its final form. Then it breezed through both houses with substantial bipartisan support.

The most important part of the morning compromise was the decision to try to prevent a popular vote on the bill.

Compromised On Formulas

The two houses compromised on formulas for relief from property and city income taxes—giving more relief to major industries than the Senate had wanted, but less than the House system would have allowed.

Under the compromise version, anyone paying over $10,000 a year in property taxes would be allowed to deduct 4 per cent of his bill from the state income tax he would owe. The House plan would have provided relief of two mills to anyone paying over $4,000, while the Senate plan would have given no taxpayer more than $265 in property tax relief.

Relief from city income taxes is based on a sliding scale designed to give a greater percentage of relief to smaller taxpayers. It allows for 20 per cent relief on the first $100 of a city income tax bill, 15 per cent on the next $50 and 10 per cent on the next $50. After that point, 5 per cent in relief would be allowed on city income tax bills ranging to a maximum of $10,000.

HENRY VONDETT, Marquette, regional fish biologist for the Michigan Conservation Department, measures a record splake from Squaw Lake near Republic. The fish weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces and measured 27 inches in length, largest ever recorded in Upper Peninsula. It was taken in an experimental gill net set by the department to survey fish populations in the lake. In recent years Squaw Lake has been planted by the department with splake and lake trout and, in 1958 and 1959, with brook trout.

Mail Truck Hits Two Elm Trees

A truck carrying United States mail was severely damaged when it ran off U.S. 2 and 41 and struck two elm trees in Memory Lane about a quarter mile west of the Escanaba city limits at 6:10 a.m. today, State Police reported.

Officers said the driver, Thomas Mannebach, 25, of 415 1st Ave. S., apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Although the trailer of the truck was demolished and the cab extensively damaged, Mannebach escaped with minor bumps and bruises. The two elm trees were knocked down, officers said.

Mail from the truck was scattered, officers said, but was quickly picked up. It remained in the large mail bags.

The truck, owned by Hanley Trucking Co. of Escanaba, ran off the right side of the road. Troopers investigated five other traffic accidents over the weekend, none involving serious injury.

Jay G. Norum, Northbrook, Ill., was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way and no operator's license after his car struck a car driven by Mary H. Vinge, 61, of 2111 24th Ave. S., at 7 p.m. Sunday at the entrance to Fuller Park on M-35.

Living Idea

The Declaration of Independence is both document and idea. As both, it has a long but far from always secure existence.

Approaching the end of its second century, the faded parchment, signatures all but illegible, is housed in Washington's National Archives, protected from the natural processes of decay and disintegration by every means known to science.

But it is only during fairly recent times that such care has been shown for the physical state of the nation's birth certificate. During its earlier years, the parchment shared in its own way the vicissitudes of the nation. At times it seemed hot or miss whether either would survive the besetting perils.

During the Revolution, when the American bid for freedom so frequently seemed on the verge of extinction, the Declaration was rushed from town to town to keep it out of the hands of the advancing British. During the War of 1812 and the burning of Washington, it was sewn into linen bags and lay hidden in a Virginia barn.

Only in recent and more secure times for the nation has it known special care and a permanent place of honor. The exhibition hall in the National Archives is a fitting background as well as a secure resting place.

None question that the Declaration should be treated with care and reverence. The document is a precious part of the American heritage, of our present and future.

But more precious yet is the idea, the living idea that makes the Declaration a vital, continuing fact of the American experience. Without it, the document is no more than a collection of fading words on drying parchment.

To preserve it, we cannot turn to science, to sealed cabinets and controlled humidity. It lives not on paper but in heart and mind, of each American and of all Americans.

Its preservation lies solely in our determination that it shall live.

Ping Those Bells

If Eric Sloane has his way, and it looks as though he's getting it, we'll all be having a ringing good time on the Fourth of July.

He is the man behind a five-year-old project to revive a joyous bit of early Americana — the ringing of bells to celebrate the Fourth.

The idea is to have the bells peal forth simultaneously across the nation to mark the moment in history when the signing of the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed. Suggested time is 1 p.m. Central Daylight Time. This, research into the proceeding of the Continental Congress indicates, was probably when the Liberty Bell rang out the good news to the citizens of Philadelphia on July 4, 1776.

A landscape painter and writer on early Americana by profession, Sloane, in researching for a book, turned up the information that during the nation's first century bell ringing was the customary way of celebrating the Fourth. But fireworks, which did not come into the picture until the Civil War, eventually drowned out the more meaningful and melodious bells.

Since Sloane's idea was first aired on a radio program on July 4, 1962, it has snowballed to the point where participation in "Bells on Independence Day" is estimated at more than 20,000 towns and cities. It has the endorsement of a congressional resolution and the National Conference of Governors.

The pealing lasts from two to four minutes and bells range from giants in public buildings, churches and factories to handbells. The message is the same — a joyous celebration of liberty and democracy.

So here's to a ringing rather than a bangup Fourth.

fighting courses required by the Office of Civilian Defense, received certificates at the final auxiliary firemen's meeting.

Auto Workers Demands 'Most Ambitious Ever'

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther will lay on the bargaining table a week from tomorrow what he describes as "the most ambitious and longest list of demands ever drawn up" by his United Auto Workers Union.

And Reuther has told the 1.4 million UAW members "we are going to make history in 1967."

If he does it without a long and costly strike, many would view it as a miracle.

Newsmen who have talked privately with both sides in recent weeks figure the odds are 60-40 there will be a strike.

The automakers have bristled at some demands "on a matter of principle, not money," and have put them down as issues on which they would rather take a strike than give in.

Hints Strike
Reuther told one union gathering to "save your shoe leather, you may be needing it in September." The implication was the leather might be needed for picket-line marching after Sept. 5 when current three-year contracts run out with the automotive Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

All of the Big Three reported sharp profit drops in this year's first quarter, compared with last year's.

Government - ordered safety features have added to costs. Higher wages would do the same.

Reuther opens 1967 bargaining at General Motors July 10. The following day he goes to Ford and the next to Chrysler.

Guaranteed Income
Reuther has said he wants a guaranteed annual income, but he hasn't said how much of one; he wants a substantial wage increase, but he hasn't said how much; he wants increased pensions, but he hasn't said how much; and he also wants increased holiday and vacation pay, but he hasn't said how much.

On top of any other economic gains Reuther says the UAW must gain pay increases for skilled tradesmen in addition to any general wage hike.

He also insists the automakers must agree in U.S. bargaining to bring pay of Canadian workers up to that of their American counterparts. The average Canadian auto plant wage now is about 30 cents hourly less.

Hourly Pay $3.39
Figures from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics show the average straight-time rate of pay within the motor vehicle and equipment industry was $3.39 hourly in April. Since then, UAW members have received a two-cent hourly cost-of-living boost.

Under a guaranteed annual income, Reuther says a worker must know at the beginning of a year what his income for the next 12 months will be, any layoffs notwithstanding.

Under the current system, a laid off worker with two years seniority gets 62 per cent of his weekly straight-time pay when his special benefits are added to regular unemployment compensation, the companies say. A worker also gets $1.50 week for each dependent up to four.

Pay Projected
One company figures that a $3.22 hourly assembler with a wife and two children who worked a full 52 weeks and received pay in lieu of vacation would have an annual income of $6,955, and one who worked only 39 weeks would get $6,293, or 50.5 per cent of that received by a 52-week man.

In addition, the latter worker would have no transportation costs while laid off, nor would he have to pack or buy a lunch.

The same worker employed only 26 weeks — six months — would get $5,715, or 82.2 per cent of the 52-week man's earnings.

Arntzens Design College Housing
SAULT STE. MARIE — Notice was received today by Lake Superior State College officials that G. Arntzen & Co., architects of Escanaba, have contracted to make the final drawings and bidding documents for another married student apartment building on campus.

The first new married student apartment building is under construction at the crest of the hill overlooking the International Bridge Plaza. The 24-unit building is scheduled for completion this fall.

The second apartment building, now under design, will include four three-bedroom apartments, eight two-bedroom apartments and eight one-bedroom apartments. It will be located just south of the present building.

It is expected that the drawings will be out for bids Aug. 25. The proposed building would be completed for occupancy in September, 1968.

After lunch, conferees will have opportunity to read their own manuscripts for criticism and assistance at workshops, display and sell their printed works and to participate in autograph sessions.
Saturday evening will be devoted to prose and poetry readings, with Gard as moderator for the prose and Guenther for poetry.
Sunday morning breakfast, Charcoal Room, 9:30 a.m.
Beginning at 10 a.m., workshops on magazine writing, poetry, and teaching writing.
After lunch, Gard will talk on "The Wisconsin Idea" as it relates to the Upper Peninsula.

Jim asks "How much advantage do you think a home town expert has in duplicate tournament when he knows the bidding style of local opponents?"

Oswald: "The advantage is tremendous. It applies particularly in competitive situations. As an example, here is a hand bid by J. G. Ripstra, playing in his home town of Wichita, Kan., in the Missouri Valley Regionals."

Jim: "I see Rip opened with a diamond in the East position."

Oswald: "Normally he would open one club but he knew that South was one of those desperation bidders and Rip wanted to be able to bid clubs later on if South stuck in a nuisance jump bid."

Jim: "South sure stuck in a nuisance jump bid. West could do nothing. He had no idea whether South was a sound bidder or a desperado."

Oswald: "Rip knew that South was a desperado. If South had merely bid two or three spades, Rip would have shown his clubs, but Rip decided to double."

Jim: "After the diamond lead, there was no way for South to avoid the loss of two diamonds, a diamond ruff, and a spade and a heart for down three or minus 500."

Oswald: "Rip's plus 500 turned out to be a top score. The best East and West can do on hearts is to make five odd. While the club slam can be made against any lead, no one did bid it and make it. It isn't really a good contract and the play against a heart opening comes close to requiring clairvoyance."

Taxes

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe last week reaffirmed his opposition to federal taxation of social security and railroad retirement benefits with the introduction of a resolution in Congress. Ruppe said he is disappointed at congressional "footdragging" on legislation to increase Social Security benefits, and is flatly opposed to an Administration proposal to levy income tax on those benefits.

Ann Landers

Man Is Off Kilter If Wearing Wife's Togs

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letters from those men (?) who are lounging around in their wives' dresses, wearing bloomers, girdles, nylons and high heels, and yet they have the nerve to say they do it for kicks and that they are perfectly normal.

Most of those nuts said they were married and have children. So what? Marriage and children are not proof of normalcy. In many cases these queers marry to gain respectability and put up a smoke-screen.

Men who get their kicks dressing up in women's clothes are not normal and it baffles me how a smart woman like you can be taken in by such rubbish. Don't you know they are homosexuals? If you don't know it you have no business being a human relations counselor. I hope you will set the record straight once and for all. — NO CURLYCUES

Dear Curly: I did not say they were normal. They said they were normal. Of course I am aware that something is off-kilter when a man gets a charge out of wearing his wife's underwear. And since you want to keep the record straight, I must tell you that you are wrong when you make the flat statement that these men are homosexuals. Most of them are not. They are transvestites. Any good unabridged dictionary explains the difference. Look up both words and educate yourself.

Dear Ann: Reading letters from those oddballs who enjoy dressing like women gave me the screaming heebies. It was downright frightening.

I'm beginning to think our civilization is doomed. Although I am not an old woman (I'm 52) I do not recall seeing or hearing about such behavior until after World War II, when I walked into a bar in San Francisco and the place was swarming with weirdies in beaded dresses and high heels.

Is some sort of deterioration taking place in our society or what? Please tell me — SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

Dear Something: Men have been dressing up like ladies for a long time. Would you believe a few thousand years? In the book of Deuteronomy, Chapter Twenty-two, Verse Five, this counsel was given: "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the Lord thy God."

Dear Ann Landers: I was fascinated by the letter from the man who said he enjoyed dressing up in his wife's clothes occasionally, just for kicks, and that his wife thought it was a scream. He then went on to say that whenever they went out of town on a trip, he'd pack his "masquerade outfit" and one or two nights they would go out on the town as "girl friends."

I would like to ask a question. When he had to go to the bathroom, which one did he go to — the men's or the ladies?

What do you think, Ann? — INQUIZITIVE

Dear Quizz: I think this is quite a question, and I don't know the answer, but it raises a whole heck of a lot of other questions — none of which I am prepared to answer.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the book "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The law student who spends too much time at the local bar will find his education lacking, to a degree.

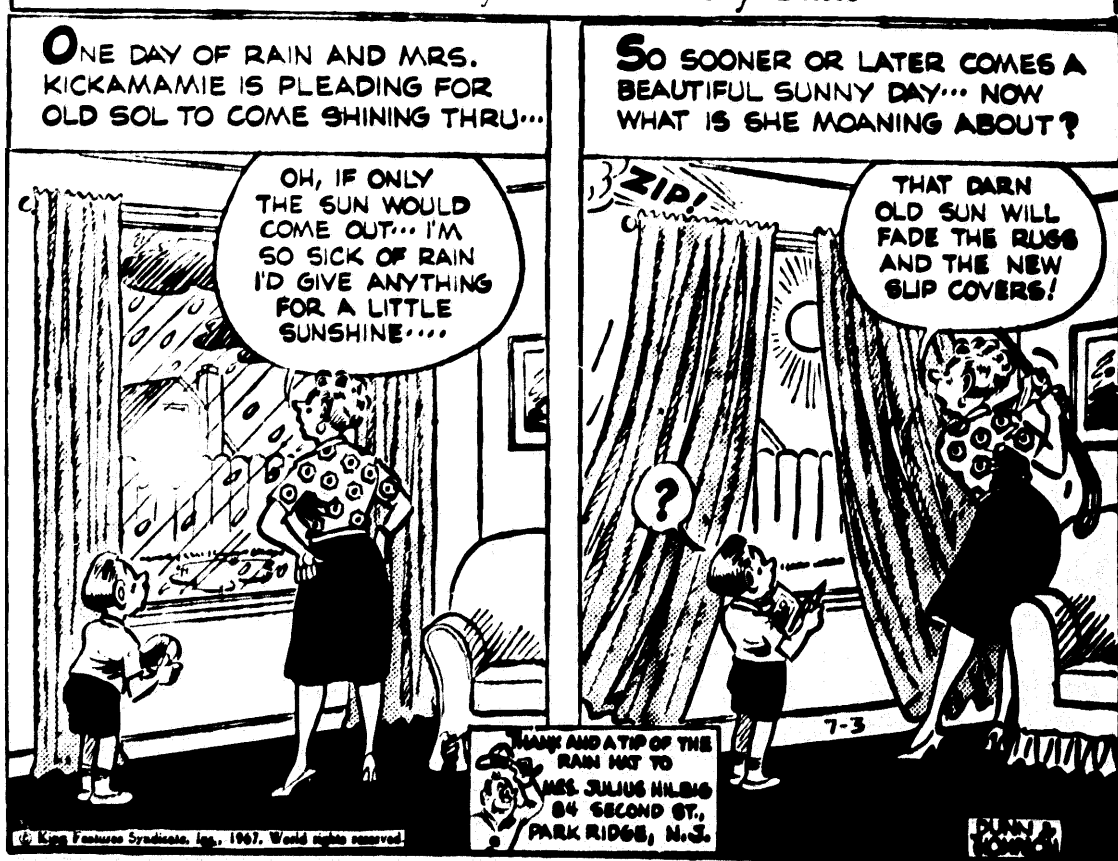

The next time you help someone move, recall: you can't wrap all those dishes in news broadcasts.

Oldsters rhapsodize about chunks of ice scraped from the wooden, horse-drawn ice wagons of yesteryear. What about the alivers in the tongue, fellows?

Barbecue Kabobs on July 4th Cookout

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
If yours is one of the millions of American families planning a July 4th cookout, these barbecue kabobs basted with special sauce will interest you.

They consist of little spears of fresh mushrooms, tomato wedges, green pepper squares and meat balls basted with a tangy-sweet sauce and flavored by charcoal cooking.

The meat balls are bound with rolled oats and stay especially juicy, and are formed around stuffed green olives hidden at their centers for surprise flavor.

BARBECUE KABOBS

Barbecue Sauce:
1 cup steak house flavor catsup
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar

2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Meat Balls:
1 1/2 lb. ground beef
3/4 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)

1 egg
3 tablespoons barbecue sauce

1 1/2 teaspoons onion salt
18 medium-sized stuffed olives

12 medium-sized fresh mushrooms
1 large green pepper, cut in 12 pieces

1 medium-sized tomato, cut in 6 wedges

For barbecue sauce, thoroughly combine all ingredients. For meat balls, combine all ingredients except olives. Shape meat mixture around olives to form 18 meat balls.

Alternate meat balls, mushrooms and green pepper pieces on six 12-inch metal skewers. (To be sure meat balls stay on skewers, thread through the olive in the center.) Brush kabobs with barbecue sauce.

Place kabobs over hot coals or in broiler 6 inches from source of heat. Cook about 7 minutes. Turn kabobs 1/2 turn. Baste with sauce; cook about 7 minutes.

Turn kabobs 1/2 turn. Place a tomato wedge on the end of each skewer. Brush with sauce; cook an additional 7 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

After trying bacon and pouring out the excess grease, if you use a paper towel to wipe the outside of the skillet along the edge where you poured you will save yourself lots of trouble.

Here's why:

We usually cook eggs in that same skillet using a little of the bacon grease. Grease has dripped down the side (if you doubt this look the next time you pour some off), and we are only baking it on the outside of our skillet when we put it back over the fire. Another reason is that the burner on your stove will not get dirty! Nor will the grates. Once oil is baked on these grates, the next clean pan you put on the stove will get marks on its bottom.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When I was married my mother listed each wedding guest, friend and relative on a 3"x5" index card with name, address and telephone number. This file, although compact, has been absolutely invaluable for writing thank you notes, Christmas cards, etc.

It's much easier to keep up-to-date than a regular address book and it's so simple to note down on each card the names of new children, changes of address, etc.

In these days when everyone moves two or three times at least, it's a real Godsend.

Meri Dell Ridge.

Inefficiency Expert

Dear Heloise:

When hanging my nylon hose outdoors to dry, I always hang them in pairs as close to one another as possible.

Then I slip a rubber band around the lot of them about half way down the legs. They will not blow about or wind over the lines.

Vero Gernhard

Dear Heloise:

You were wearing your best thinking cap when you thought of that one. It's the best yet. Bless you.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I am one of those housewives who has dedicated her life to whittling down the food budget.

To begin with, we like our coffee about medium strength. We have an electric pot with a dial to select the desired strength and ours is always set at "strong." Even if I have guests who like weak coffee, it is still set at "strong."

I select the strength by the amount of ground coffee I use and get all I can out of what I use.

Mrs. Kenneth Paul

Dear Heloise:

My washing machine is located in my kitchen because we don't have a basement or utility room large enough to accommodate it.

Every time I do my laundry, the detergent suds seem to run over on my kitchen floor.

Can you suggest a quicker clean-up way than running for that old mop?

"Sudsy"

Dear Heloise:

I know that excess suds in your washing machine or dishwasher can really be a mess. Grab your salt shaker. Gently sprinkle some on the suds and watch 'em break up!

This is the best way we know to get rid of the excess bubbles. Just like magic.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I use a strawberry huller to pull out the weeds in the garden.

I also often use a grapefruit knife, as I find the little teeth on the knife hook the weeds out easily.

Knitting Grandma Celebrates Her 91st Birthday

ONEKAMA (AP)—Mrs. Rosella Gauthier put her knitting aside for awhile Sunday and enjoyed a great party.

The 91-year-old great-great-grandmother has 205 living descendants, including 13 children, 47 grandchildren, 141 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Gauthier was born a short distance from this Manistee County hamlet in West Michigan and still lives in a farm home built by her late husband, now owned by one of her sons.

"I started working when I was nine," she recalls, "running errands and such. But since I got married, I've been too busy knitting for all the children."

The current project is her 101st quilt.

"I hope to finish it soon," she said.

The party was almost too big for Onekama, which has 469 residents.

It was standing room only at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, during a mass in honor of the Gauthier family. The parish house and the St. Joseph Civic Club hall in nearby Manistee didn't have room for the Gauthier clan, so the gathering was switched to the county fair grounds.

"There still wasn't room enough for friends of the family," said one relative.

Homes of Gauthier children and grandchildren still living in the Onekama area were bulging with relatives who piled into town over the weekend.

Mrs. Gauthier, smiling and prim with a pink and white corsage, doesn't try to remember all the names.

"They keep pretty good track of me," she said.

Ann Landers

Boy's "Generosity" Shows Lack Of Love

Dear Ann Landers: Our problem is a 15-year-old son. Ronnie gives away everything he gets his hands on. This is not a recent habit. He has been doing it ever since he was a small child.

My first recollection of his "generosity" was when I spent the whole day baking for a church bazaar and the next morning Ronnie gave all the baked goods to the kids in the neighborhood.

He has given away my new riding boots, his father's yard equipment and his own chemistry set. A few weeks ago he said he was nearly out of shirts. I bought him a half dozen new shirts in January. I'm sure he gave his shirts to some friend.

I have considered giving away his stereo and camera to teach him a lesson and act him out of the habit. What do you think of the idea, Ann? Would it work? — NOTHING LEFT

Dear Nothing: Don't do it. It never does any good to treat the symptom and ignore the problem. The boy's gift-giving compulsion is evidence that he needs to feel loved. Giving usually produces praise and warm comments. This is why the boy started to play Santa Claus at an early age and has kept it up. Take the hint and give him what he really needs.

Dear Ann Landers: There is a lot to be said for stricter gun laws. If I had had a gun in the house last Sunday, I think I would have shot my mother-in-law. For the 100th time she said to me, "Why don't you try one more time, Edith? The next one has to be a girl."

I would like nothing better than to have a girl, Ann, but I am 36 years old and I don't want a sixth boy.

My husband just sits there looking underprivileged. He never opens his mouth to say a word in my behalf. If someone would give me a guarantee that my next baby would be a girl, I would go ahead. But in the absence of a guarantee, I am plenty satisfied with things as they are.

Please tell me how I can get my mother-in-law off my back. — PECKLED

Dear Heck: Smile sweetly and pretend you have a dead battery in your hearing aid.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a grandmother who wants some advice. For the past six years I have sent my grandchildren cards with cash enclosed for all occasions — birthdays, Christmas and Easter. I have yet to receive an acknowledgment from any of them.

Two of my grandchildren are not old enough to write, but their mother is. Would it be mean of me to send only cards from now on, minus the cash? Thank you for your help. — PHILADELPHIA GRAM

Dear Gram: I feel sorry for children whose mother has failed to teach them the fundamentals of good manners.

If you did not write or telephone to learn if the cards and money were received, you should have done so. I suggest that you give them one more round. If you receive no acknowledgment, make a point of it — not to be punitive, but to teach the children good manners. If, after being told, they still do not acknowledge your gifts, stop sending them.

GLADSTONE

Soo Protests C&NW Merger

Witnesses for Soo Line Railroad will testify beginning next week when an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on a proposed merger of the Chicago & North Western Railway and the Milwaukee Road resumes in Minneapolis.

The Soo's witnesses will testify that

1. A unified North Western-Milwaukee Road would have virtually a monopoly on rail transportation in several important industrial areas of Wisconsin.

2. Effective competition among railroads is vital to shippers and communities.

3. The proposed merger would result in the diversion of some $5 million in business annually from the Soo; and that

4. Diversions of such magnitude would impair the Soo's ability to provide effective rail transportation services — and particularly to compete with the merged company.

Hearings on the proposed North Western - Milwaukee Road merger began in Chicago last Feb. 6. The Minneapolis session will be the first to be held outside Chicago. Further hearings currently are planned in Milwaukee.

Because it believes that a North Western-Milwaukee Road merger will adversely affect rail competition and the Soo and its stockholders, the Soo says it is opposed to the merger. If the merger is approved by the ICC, the Soo is asking the commission to prescribe conditions which will preserve the Soo's competitive strength and provide industry and the general public with effective inter-railroad competition.

He said he tried to land the plane, but its nose caught in a drainage ditch. It skidded 93 feet and flipped over on its back.

Cubs Share First Position In National With Cards

Dandy Miracle Going For Dapper Durocher

It's been 16 years between miracles for dapper Lee Durocher, but he's got a dandy going right now.

Durocher, who piloted the New York Giants to the 1951 pennant with a storybook finish, has his trusty volume out again and what's more, he's got all Chicago believing it.

Some 40,464 frantic fans packed Wrigley Field Sunday and watched the Cubs, who finished 10th last season, grab a share of first place with a 4-1 victory over Cincinnati on Ferguson Jenkins' three-hitter.

From last to first in half a season. Now how's that for a miracle?

In fact, for a few glorious hours, the Cubs, who haven't finished in the first division since finishing third in 1946, were actually in first place all by themselves. That was after the New York Mets nipped St. Louis 5-4 in the first game of a doubleheader.

But the Cardinals rebounded with a 3-1 victory in the nightcap that earned them a piece of the top spot. In other National League games Sunday, Philadelphia rallied for an 8-7 victory over San Francisco and Houston nipped Los Angeles 5-4. Atlanta's game at Pittsburgh was rained out.

In the American League, California downed New York 6-4, Detroit shut out Chicago 3-0, Boston nipped Kansas City 2-1, Minnesota swept a doubleheader from Washington 4-1 and 6-1 and Baltimore blanked Cleveland 10-1 in a game ended by rain after six innings.

The Chicago fans have a severe case of penitence fever brought on by six straight victories and 13 triumphs in 14 starts. They gathered outside the clubhouse after Sunday's game and chanted, "We want Leo. We want Leo."

But Durocher wasn't having any. "They're not going to get me out there," he said. "The only time I've seen it like this was when Bobby Thomson hit the homer to win the pennant for the Giants in 1951."

The fans roared everytime the scoreboard posted a Mets' run against St. Louis and when the 5-4 first game final went up, they cheered so loud and long that the Cubs game was delayed.

Jenkins, who won his 11th game, slammed a pair of hits and drove in a run. His reaction to the commotion? "This winning becomes fun," he said. "The way we're going, we might even win the pennant."

The Mets cooperated beautifully in the first game, pushing across the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning. Bud Harrelson carried it across when he singled, stole second and went to third on catcher John Romano's throwing error and scooted home on reliever Nelson Briles' wild pitch.

Ken Boyer doubled home one run and tied the game with an eighth inning homer for New York.

Steve Carlton hurled a six-hitter in the nightcap as the Cardinals climbed back to tie for the top spot. St. Louis bunched four extra base hits for all their runs in the second inning with Orlando Cepeda, Dave Ricketts and Carlton smashing doubles and Julian Javier whacking a triple. Johnny Callison capped a Philadelphia comeback with a two-out double that chased across the tying and winning runs in the bottom of the ninth against San Francisco.

Callison drove in three runs with three hits and scored twice as Philadelphia wiped out a 7-2 Giant bulge with six runs in the last two innings.

Jim Hart drove in three runs with three hits as five Philadelphia errors led to five unearned runs for the Giants.

Ron Davis squeezed Jimmy Wynn across with the winning run with two out and the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth inning as Houston nipped the Dodgers.

Jenkins Remains Calm As Cub Fans Go Wild

CHICAGO (AP) — Mass hysteria is sweeping ancient Wrigley Field these days and the only guy it doesn't seem to bother is Ferguson Jenkins, the Canadian-born right-hander who wants to become a millionaire.

A crowd of 40,464 not only cheered every move the Chicago Cubs made Sunday, but also played the game of "scoreboard."

Everytime the New York Mets scored a run against the St. Louis Cardinals, the crowd let out a deafening roar. And when the final score of New York 5, St. Louis 4 went up, they cheered so loud and long that the Cub game was held up momentarily. The Cards regained a share of first place by downing the Mets 3-1 in the second game.

"I couldn't swing the bat one time when they cheered," laughed Ron Santo. "I just froze and darned if it wasn't a big fat pitch."

Long after the game was over, the crowd hung around the dressing room chanting "We want Leo. We want Leo."

"They're not going to get me out there," said Manager Leo Durocher. "The only time I've seen it like this was when Bobby Thomson hit the homer to win the pennant for the Giants in 1951."

The crowd had everyone hopped up except Jenkins who calmly hurled the Cubs to their sixth straight victory and 13th in the last 14 games as he notched his 11th triumph against five defeats.

Jenkins allowed only three hits and contributed a run-scoring triple and a double.

Jenkins, who came to the Cubs from Philadelphia as a relief pitcher last year, became a starter late in 1966 and won his last four games. He's going along with pitching coach Joe Becker who tells his corps

Ferguson Jenkins

"stick with me and I'll make you a millionaire."

"That's what he tells me and I'm going along with him," laughed Jenkins. "He says two good years and then you get the big money. I'm the kind of guy who really needs it. I'm sure trying for it and this winning becomes fun. The way we're going, we might even win the pennant."

Sparma Beats White Sox For 9th Mound Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers right-hander Joe Sparma says he may have to bring his 3-year-old daughter, Debbie, to the ball park more often.

"The last time she came I shut out Baltimore," said Sparma, who set down the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on six hits Sunday.

The victory moved the second place Tigers, who took two of three weekend games from Chicago, to within 4½ games of the American League leading White Sox.

But a victory by Boston and a twinbill sweep by the Minnesota Twins created a three-way tie for second place.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith, whose club now has beaten the Sox four out of six games, was hoping for a sweep of the series to make some headway, but added:

"This race is going to be a dog fight to the bitter end. Unless some club gets a lot of injuries, anyone of six teams could win the pennant."

Sparma out-duelled Chicago's Gary Peters, now 10-4, in picking up his ninth victory in 10 decisions and his third shutout.

Peters, who fanned 11 in seven innings while giving up just three hits, was touched for a two-run homer by Mickey Stanley in the second and a solo shot by Bill Freehan in the sixth.

"Those two balls might not have been hit out of Comiskey Park in Chicago," said Sparma. "That's why those Chicago pitchers have the low ERAs. They ought to try pitching in this park all year."

Sparma, who walked two and struck out four, was helped out by three Detroit doubleplays, each coming after he put the lead off man on base in the first, fifth and sixth innings.

"Double plays are a great thing when you're on defense and miserable when you're on offense," said Smith.

Sparma has only six complete games in 18 starts this year, but he has pitched three of them in his last four starts, losing one game.

"I'm starting to pitch now instead of just trying to blow the ball by everybody," said the strong-armed pitcher. "I'm not trying for strike outs as much."

The Tigers moved into Cleveland today for a three-game series with the Indians. Denny McLain was to pitch the opener against Luis Tiant of the Indians.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

A reporter should get something besides a hair trim for $2 spent in a barber's chair and one way to do it is to ask questions.

Harry Viau answered one question about his plans for the Fourth of July with "Well, I'm not going to do what I did on the last Fourth of July."

"What," he was asked, "did you do on the Fourth last year?"

"I celebrated by burning up $9 worth of steaks on my grill," said Viau.

"Because we were staying at home I splurged and set myself up with hickory shavings and other fancy trimmings and then, just as things were going along well, I got a phone call. "When I got back to the grill I salvaged one part of one steak, and it was mostly a cinder."

"I'm trying again on this Fourth, but even if it's Kosygin on the hot line he'll have to wait until I get those steaks off the grill."

Powers-Spalding Annual Banquet

Hirsch's Bar in Banat was the scene of the annual banquet held by the Wilson Home Study Club on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Sixteen members enjoyed dinner and games with fun prizes. The program was in charge of Mrs. Melvin Behrend and Mrs. Lawrence King. Sr. Mrs. Earl DuBois reported on "College Day for Women," held at Bay de Noc Community College Tuesday. Reservations for the dinner were in charge of Mrs. Earl Weissert. Mrs. Nelson LaBonte won the door prize.

Home Fire Fatal To Five Children

CARO (AP) — Fire swept through a one-story farm house near Caro Sunday, snuffing out the lives of five children and badly burning five others, four of whom were in critical condition today.

Four of the dead were from the same family. They were Debra Spencer, 6, and three of her brothers—Paul, 9, Carl, 4, and Terry, 3. The blaze also claimed the life of 9-year-old Ronald Jackson.

In critical condition in Saginaw General Hospital was Arnold Jackson, 7. At Detroit's Children's Hospital, three Spencers were in critical condition.

The 10th child, 12-year-old Ernest Spencer, was hospitalized at Caro Community Hospital, where his condition was listed as fair.

Sheriff Hugh Marr said the fire came at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spencer, who were away when the fire broke out at 3 a.m.

Marr said young Ernest Spencer had been left in charge of the children.

He told authorities that he fell asleep while watching a movie on television. The other children, he said, had gone to the basement of the house to go to bed.

A new furnace recently was installed in the basement, Marr said, and paint thinner and other flammable liquids were stored nearby.

"The fire apparently flashed up and put out a lot of heat in a very short time," he said.

Ernest told officers he awoke, smelled smoke and ran out into the yard. His parents returned home and the father broke one of the basement windows and found the burned children.

July 4th Hectic Highways Call For Motoring Caution

Northern Michigan highways, jam-packed in places with vacationing visitors, plus the increased volume of traffic generated by the Fourth of July holiday, are challenging motorists to extra caution today.

While only minor traffic accidents were reported so far through the long holiday weekend, law enforcement officers joined in the appeal for careful driving.

Northbound traffic at the Straits of Mackinac in advance of the weekend appeared on the way to setting records, while many campgrounds had posted "full camp" by Saturday noon.

A steady stream of vacationers, many with trailers, boats and camping equipment flowed northward through the weekend.

Parks Not Filled

Rains in the Upper Peninsula, coupled with cooler weather, turned some of the campers short of their northern goals or into motels. At Wells State Park on M 35 south of Escanaba it has rained six out of the last seven days and some of the camping area is under water, reports Art Lauren, park manager.

Fayette State Park has camping space available, reports Manager James Kent. The camping area is being expanded and this makes more spaces available. Attendance at historic Fayette, which is 100 years old this year, is above last year, Kent added.

Communities throughout the area are sponsoring Fourth of July programs, with Manistique arranging one of the most elaborate celebrations in years. (See Manistique Page for details.)

Ring Those Bells

The Delta County Board of Supervisors in recent meeting called for a return to at least one of the old-fashioned aspects of the July Fourth celebrations—the ringing of bells.

The Supervisors are calling upon all of the residents of Delta County to join in ringing bells at 1 p. m., on the Fourth.

Escanaba's program will center in Ludington Park, where a Baby Contest, Band Concert and fireworks are among the entertainment events.

State Police of the Gladstone Post reported traffic as "medium to heavy" on all main trunklines in the area. Officers investigated six traffic accidents over the weekend and early today, but none resulted in serious injury.

Troopers are maintaining additional road patrols over the holiday period.

Passengers Hurt

Two passengers were hurt in a traffic mishap in Escanaba on Sunday, it is reported by city police. Their injuries are not believed to be serious.

They are Mrs. Allen Holland,

THERE WAS ONLY minor injury to a passenger in one of these autos that collided in the 2400 block, Ludington St., at 11:55 a.m. Sunday. The drivers, Earl D. Arnold, 45, of Swartz Creek, and Roger Stebbins Jr., 17, of Perrenville, are pictured with Police Officer Joseph Pryal. Mrs. Arnold was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released. Stebbins was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way. (Daily Press Photo)

Up To Council:

Waterfront Land Purchase Studied

The purchase by the City of Escanaba of waterfront land on N. 3rd St. across from the new Delta County jail from the Brown Sea Food Co., Lansing, will come before the Council for consideration when it meets at the City Hall at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The property is the former

Hansen & Jensen and later the Jensen & Jensen location, where a commercial fishing and processing operation was centered for many years. Brown bought the property about five or six years ago.

City Manager George Harvey requested and received from the Council authority to negotiate with Brown for the purchase of the land by the city.

Brown is asking $18,000 for the property, coming down to that figure from $25,000 he had asked a few years ago.

The city would like to see the area "cleaned up," said Manager Harvey. There is a question of title to some of the shore area because of the "made lands" factor and the city would have to confer with the state in clearing up this problem.

The Council will open bids on water main pipe and fleet insurance; hear objections to paying and assessment on a couple of street improvement jobs; and give public hearing and adoption to an ordinance controlling nuisances.

Further consideration of the proposed community building project; adoption of a zoning change requested by the Sands Motel which is proposing an expansion; and a report and review of planning application survey are also scheduled to come before the Council.

A report and recommendation on the renewal of the electric power contract between the city and the Upper Peninsula Power Co., consideration of the resignation of Arne Maki from the Planning Commission; and other matters of business are scheduled.
